“...[T]rue liberty of choice is bound up with the power to think and reason - every act of choice being necessarily preceded by an act of the intellect...” - Dr. Maria Montessori

Education is a means to releasing human potential! Through the environment we stimulate the life within each child and then leave the child free to develop and create him or herself. This process proceeds along a systematic and scientific way. The Wildflower Foundation has generously gifted Violeta with Montessori Coaching by the former Executive Director of AMI-USA: Virginia McHugh Goodwin’s 30 plus years as a leader in the Montessori community, provided inspiring support to us. As a result of her visit, we emerged invigorated and the environment refreshed! Violeta has been infused with new materials and opportunities for the children to freely choose their work and develop their burgeoning decision-making process.

Violeta was ‘abuzz’ with excitement as we released some unexpected flying creatures...

Violeta supports the unfolding of the children’s potentials in a methodically controlled and scientifically prepared environment. As a lab school, we have the additional assistance of the MIT Media Lab to research the factors that can affect the children’s learning and inform our practice which in turn will aid the children’s functioning in Violeta. Should you have any questions about the upcoming research study, please contact Ayesha Bose. Over vacation feel free to send us your permission slips via email.

So many new math lessons to help me count, group, order, and write numbers to 10!

Violeta is a peaceful place to work!
